

What kind of world do humanists want?

Humanists believe responsibility for building a better and fairer world falls on human beings alone.

1

One Life,
One Planet

Wrongs won't be put right

2

in another life after this one, so we need to work for justice and happiness for all in the here and now.

Democracy, human rights, freedom, equality, and education provide the best means to support human beings to live full and flourishing lives.

3

